Report description:

Analgesics is set to see a decline in sales in 2023 as consumers have migrated away from aspirin in an uncertain economic environment and sought to prioritise household essentials, while turning to other categories to treat basic ailments such as headaches, fevers, and body aches. The large increase in purchases resulting from the pandemic and subsequent vaccination campaign has ceased as sales in the analgesics category continue to normalise and return to pre-pandemic levels. Acetaminophen rema...
