Report description:

In 2023, baby food is performing well and returning to normal after the disturbances caused by the COVID-19 pandemic since 2020. The main reason for this is due to the fast rebound of the domestic economy, as well as ongoing urbanisation. Likewise, the rising middle class and those with growing disposable incomes are willing to spend more on their babies, hence generating further demand for the category. However, it is worth mentioning that demand for baby food did not really suffer in response...
