Report description:

Consumer credit has continued to witness robust growth in 2023, albeit at a moderated pace compared to the preceding two years. This growth encompasses both outstanding balances and gross lending, having already rebounded to pre-pandemic levels in 2022. The resurgence is attributed to a gradual return of individuals to their routine activities post the pandemic-related restrictions. Consequently, consumer spending and financing habits have resumed, fuelling the upswing. Furthermore, the growth m...
