Report description:

There has been a growing demand for soups among consumers in Kenya. The landscape has quickly become one of the few industries that have witnessed a surge in demand after the outbreak of COVID-19. However, there is an overall perception in the country that soup is to be eaten when one is sick and cannot consume solid foods. As such, the trend for soup consumption is currently limited to urban areas, with the reopening of restaurants after the outbreak of COVID-19 boosting this trend forward. The...
