Report description:

Retail volume sales of processed fruit and vegetables continued to decline in 2023. This was due in a large part to the still-elevated rate of inflation, which impacted the cost of living and caused consumers to rationalise their spending. Consumers are also increasingly health conscious and fresh products are believed to be more nutritionally rich than processed canned and frozen varieties. As a result both retailers and producers attempted stimulate interest through the introduction of more no...
