MARKET DEFINITION

A shower enclosure is simply a structure that surrounds the shower area. The panels that enclose the shower area protect the rest of the bathroom from splashes. It is designed to keep water from splashing outside the shower area and helps prevent falls and slips. Shower enclosures can be purchased in various styles, finishes, and sizes to match any bathroom decor. It can also be customized as per the availability of space and the requirements of customers. Shower enclosures are much easier to clean as compared to shower curtains. After each use, it must be wiped down with a sponge or squeegee. Shower enclosures can give bathrooms a more elegant and modern look. Shower enclosures help to add value to homes, especially for those planning to sell them in the future.
