Report description:

The wave of inflation that swept across Europe in the wake of the Russian Federation's February 2022 invasion of Ukraine continued into 2023, with Hungary witnessing the highest core inflation of all European countries during the year after experiencing double-digit inflation over the course of 2022. This led to further substantial increases in average unit price across all categories of apparel and footwear, following double-digit average unit price growth during 2022. Nonetheless, volume growth...
