Report description:

Due to rising inflation and price sensitivity, sales of consumer appliances in the Netherlands were challenged in 2023. Retail volume sales of both large and smaller appliances declined as consumers remained cautious, postponing purchases, especially those of big-ticket items. This price-cautious behaviour was coupled with a subdued housing market and high-interest rates, leaving consumers reluctant to move home, negatively impacting built-in appliances.

Euromonitor International's Consumer Appliances in Netherlands report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of the market at a national level. It provides the latest retail sales data 2018-2022, allowing you to identify the sectors driving growth.
