Report description:

Soft drinks saw rising demand in 2023 despite challenges such as the weak exchange value of the dinar and a lack of structure in the industry. Population growth and the youth of Iraq's population are major reasons for rising demand in carbonates, juice, energy drinks and concentrates, while unsafe drinking water is the main reason for robust sales growth in bottled water. Local production is increasing due to favourable regulations which seek to reduce dependence on imported soft drinks.

Euromonitor International's Soft Drinks in Iraq report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of the market at a national level.
