Report description:

In 2023, there was a significant improvement in the total sales volume of coffee compared to 2022. This positive shift can be attributed to various factors, including overcoming the impact of high inflation following the pandemic and Russia's invasion of Ukraine. The resultant slowdown in the rate of price growth benefitted all product categories. Additionally, stabilised supply chains and the recovery in foodservice sales, driven by the revival of tourism, contributed to a more stable and encou...
