Report description:

As Indian consumers have been returning to their busy and active lifestyles post-pandemic, they have been increasingly seeking convenient and time-saving food products. Frozen vegetable offerings such as mixed corn and peas require less preparation time than fresh vegetables, and thus provide a convenient meal constituent for busy urban Indians, particularly in tier 1 and tier 2 cities. This growth benefits flexible plastic, which is the exclusive pack type used for frozen processed vegetables.

Euromonitor International's Processed Fruit and Vegetables Packaging in India report offers insight into key trends and developments driving packaging across the category. The report also examines trends and prospect for various pack types and closures: metal packaging, rigid plastic, glass, liquid cartons, paper-based containers; flexible packaging.

Product coverage: Frozen Processed Fruit and Vegetables, Shelf Stable Fruit and Vegetables.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
