Report description:

Retail volume sales stagnated in 2023, as demand weakened amid rising unit prices caused by high inflation. Automatic dishwashing continues to grow moderately whilst the much larger hand dishwashing category saw a decline in retail volume terms. There is plenty of innovation in automatic dishwashing tablets, which is lifting the overall category performance. Overall, dishwashing is one of the better performing categories in value terms, achieving double-digit growth in 2023.
