Report description:

While retail value sales were positive in 2023, driven by rising unit prices, home insecticides continued to face a retail volume decline in 2023. This decline resulted from a reduction in the consumer base and reduced purchase frequency. High inflation stimulated economising, with consumers paying greater attention to prices. As such, this led to approximately 30% of home insecticide products being purchased at discount prices during 2023. Summer remained the season that most home insecticide S...
