Report description:

In 2023, vending in South Africa continued to recover from the negative impact of lockdown restrictions, which mainly affected machines located in semi-captive environments, leading to the bankruptcy of many small businesses operating within the channel. As a result, consumers' revived routines translated into a return to locations such as offices, schools, and gyms, which boosted vending sales.

Euromonitor International's Vending in South Africa report offers insight into key trends and developments driving the industry. The report examines all retail channels to provide sector insight. Channels include hypermarkets, supermarkets, discounters, convenience stores, mixed retailers, health and beauty retailers, clothing and footwear retailers, furniture and furnishing stores, DIY and hardware stores, durable goods retailers, leisure and personal goods retailers. There are profiles of leading retailers, with analysis of their performance and the challenges they face. There is also analysis of non-store retailing: vending; homeshopping; internet retailing; direct selling, as available.

Product coverage: Appliances and Electronics Vending, Drinks and Tobacco Vending, Fashion Vending, Foods Vending, Health and Beauty Vending, Home Products Vending, Other Products Vending.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
