Report description:

2023 was the first year since 2019 in which direct selling in New Zealand was not subject to social, trading or movement restrictions. These limitations had adversely impacted the trading ability of direct selling companies earlier in the review period, with the outbreak and related effects of the COVID-19 pandemic. Nonetheless, high inflation and rising interest rates at the end of the review period informed high cost-of-living pressures, which reduced discretionary spending levels among many c...
