Report description:

Retail adult incontinence in Algeria registered higher volume growth in 2023 in comparison with the review period thanks to an ageing population, with the number of those aged over 65 increasing due to soaring inflation rates. However, in value terms, growth declined due to a lower price rise than in 2022 when prices surged significantly. In addition, with rising price-sensitivity, many consumers switched to cheaper brands in the year, impacting value sales.
