Report description:

In 2023, current value sales of Rx/reimbursement adult incontinence rose substantially due to a spike in unit prices. Although Rx/reimbursement adult incontinence products are available free of charge through Sweden's public healthcare system, volume growth has been sluggish since the outbreak of COVID-19. In 2023, significant unit price increases dampened demand pushing volume growth rates below 2022 levels as the inflation rate in the country rose. However, as incontinence problems are typical...
