Report description:

Hair care saw current value growth in Egypt in 2023. The category witnessed declining volumes and significant increases in value due to a considerable increase in its prices, which rose by more than 40%. These prices increased for several reasons, including the global rise in the cost of raw materials used in hair care products driving up prices in Egypt. In addition, the devaluation of the Egyptian pound and the lack of availability of US dollars made prices soar.
