Report description:

In 2023, home and garden in Canada faced challenges stemming from persistent inflation, notably in food and energy prices, exacerbated by supply chain disruptions and the Russian invasion of Ukraine. These factors contributed to a decline in current value sales across the product area. Consumers, feeling the strain on their disposable incomes, opted to defer larger, discretionary spending on their homes.

Euromonitor International's Home and Garden in Canada report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of market demand at a national level. It provides the latest retail sales data (historic date range), allowing you to identify the categories driving growth. It also identifies the leading companies and their brands, and offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing demand - from new product developments, consumer lifestyles, route to market and pricing issues. Forecasts to 2028 illustrate how market demand is expected to evolve in the medium-term

Product coverage: Home Improvement and Gardening, Homewares and Home Furnishings.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
