Report description:

Contact lenses in Japan is set to continue to see volume and current value growth in 2024. One factor driving growth has been children. More and more children are suffering from myopia. While spectacles is still the main treatment method for children with myopia, increasingly early adoption of contact lenses was observed within the review period, and the age of starting to use contact lenses is falling. Another factor is use by older people, in which it is observed that early users of contact le...
