KEY HIGHLIGHTS

- The Turkey data center market has about 31 operational colocation data centers. Most are being developed according to Tier III standards. For instance, Turk Telekom's Esenyurt facility in Istanbul is built to Tier III standards.
- Istanbul is Turkey's primary location for investments in the Turkey data center market, followed by Ankara, Izmir, and other cities. Istanbul is home to around 20 third-party data center facilities, representing a market share of around 65%.
- Turkey (Istanbul) is the third most expensive market in the Middle East region to develop a data center facility after Saudi Arabia and the UAE. The data center construction cost in 2023 was about $8-$9 million per MW, and it is likely to increase by around 3%-4% YoY.
- Deployment and adoption of 5G services in Turkey will fuel data traffic and further grow the demand for more data centers. The telecom operators present in the market include Vodafone Turkey, Turk Telekom, and Turkcell.
