Report description:

Ice cream is big business in Algeria and it continues to be the biggest snack by far in terms of value sales in 2024. That being said, growth in constant value and volume sales is expected to be modest, as rising prices continues to dampen value sales. Single portion ice cream continues to be much more popular than take-home ice cream and is expected to register higher current value and volume growth than take-home in 2024.
