Report description:

Retail volume sales of mobile phones in Thailand will see a decline in 2024, albeit at a much slower rate than the previous year. The latter was due a worldwide shortage of semiconductor chips, which began prior to the pandemic and which had a knock-on effect on sales of many consumer electronics products. While this situation had normalised by the end of 2023, the high cost of living is having an impact on discretionary spending, with consumers holding onto their mobile phones for longer period...
