Report description:

Wearable electronics in Malaysia benefits from rising awareness of health and wellness and fitness issues, which continue to pave the way for the greater adoption of such products in 2024. The category continues to show dynamism towards the end of the review period, with further strong retail volume and value (constant 2024 prices) growth anticipated over 2024. This performance is all the more notable given the extant inflationary pressures in the market, which continue to have a residual dampen...
