Report description:

Campinas and Brasilia stand out as Brazil's most economically thriving cities, as they recorded the highest disposable incomes and labour productivity, respectively. In terms of showing potential for future economic expansion, Porto Alegre is expected to record the fastest real GDP growth, while Sao Luis will witness the fastest increase in per capita disposable incomes. Sao Paulo, owing to its contribution to GDP, will remain the most strategically important city for the country's economy...

Euromonitor International's City Review reports analyse key trends and developments in 126 world's major cities. They provide localised city information in terms of economy, consumer lifestyles, housing and transport and city environment and offer valuable insights for strategic planning.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
