Report description:

Drinking milk products witnessed further volume sales decline in 2024 due to retail price growth. The rising cost of milk production, processing and retailing has put upward pressure on milk prices. On the demand side, the cost of living has undermined purchasing power leading to lower consumption of drinking milk products. Semi skimmed fresh milk was included in the new government legislation, which limits the total mark-up at 20% for processors and retailers until December 2024. This helped to...
