Report description:

Consumer electronics has had some difficult times in recent years in Latin America, with the pandemic hitting sales in some countries and the inflationary and uncertain geopolitical environment then impacting performances in the post-COVID-19 period. However, sales were increasing in the two biggest regional markets, Brazil and Mexico, in 2024, helping offset the deep decline in Argentina. All the main markets are currently expected to see positive growth over the forecast period.

Euromonitor International's Consumer Electronics in Latin America global briefing offers insight on emerging geographies, key growth categories and trends as well as pressing industry issues and white spaces. It identifies the leading companies and brands, and offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the market ? be it new product developments, economic/lifestyle influences, distribution or pricing issues. From the latest innovations such as Smartphones, Ultrabooks and OLED TVs to existing technologies such as Laptops, Home Audio and Cinema Systems and In-Car Entertainment, Euromonitor International offers a consistent yet incisive snapshot of the Consumer Electronics industry. Forecasts illustrate how the market is set to change and the criteria for success over the next five years.

Product coverage: Computers and Peripherals, In-Car Entertainment, In-Home Consumer Electronics, Portable Consumer Electronics.

Data coverage: market sizes (historic and forecasts), company shares, brand shares and distribution data.
