The profile also contains descriptions of the leading players including key financial metrics and analysis of competitive pressures within the market.

Key Highlights

- The consumer electronics retail market comprises the sales of communications equipment, computer hardware and software, consumer electronics, household appliances, and photographic equipment. The market value represents the retail sales value of consumer electronics.
- The Middle Eastern consumer electronics retail market recorded revenues of $36.2 billion in 2023, representing a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 4.3% between 2018 and 2023.
- The communications equipment segment accounted for the market's largest proportion in 2023, with total revenues of $18.2 billion, equivalent to 50.3% of the market's overall value.
- The contraction of the Middle Eastern consumer electronics retail market in 2023 is attributed to the depreciation of the Egyptian pound against the dollar which affected the market growth in Egypt. Also, the geopolitical tensions in Israel and the rise in inflation eroded consumer purchasing power, making it more challenging for households to purchase non-essential goods such as consumer electronics.
