Report description:

Retail value sales grew by 6% in 2024, while volume also remained positive across all sweet spread areas. However, soaring sugar prices had a detrimental impact on sweet spreads in 2024, driving up unit prices at a time when many consumers were already grappling with financial challenges due to inflation and elevated interest rates. In response, shoppers were increasingly seeking price discounts and opting for larger pack sizes to mitigate their average spending on spreads.
