Report description:

The last couple of years, including 2023, have seen HDPE bottles gaining pack type share in hand dishwashing in Canada, driven by their durability and rigidity. Unlike some other types of plastic, HDPE is resistant to warping or deformation, even when exposed to heat and harsh dishwashing chemicals. The lightweight design not only reduces material costs, but also lowers transportation expenses. HDPE is also a cost-effective material, compared to other pack types like metal or glass, benefiting m...
