Report description:

Although metal aerosol cans continue to be the leading pack type in spray/aerosol insecticides in Poland, HDPE bottles have been gaining share in recent years and were recording particularly strong growth in 2023. This is due to the increasing popularity of non-toxic insecticides, which are water based and safe for humans as well as animals. They are popular for both in-home as well as garden use. Companies like Resolva and Repellshield package their insecticides in HDPE bottles, which can be re...
