Report description:

Shelf stable fruit and vegetable packaging is dominated by metal food cans and glass jars. Most shelf stable fruit and vegetables packed in metal food cans sold in Ukraine are imported, and a wide variety of sizes are available - from single servings to family sizes. In shelf stable vegetables, glass jars lead metal food cans, but plastic pouches grew in popularity during the review period due to their light weight and low cost. While metal food cans are the dominant type of packaging for shelf...
