Report description:

Total processed meat and seafood packaging volumes continued to decline in the Netherlands in 2023, although this was a continued stabilisation process after disruption during the COVID-19 pandemic, and volumes remained higher than pre-pandemic, in 2019. Although processed meat, and meat and seafood substitutes accounted for higher packaging volumes in 2023, processed seafood was the category which saw growth in packaging volumes. Processed seafood is favoured as a convenient and nutritious form...
