Report description:

Consumer demand for staple foods remains steady in 2024, with moderate retail volume growth being seen in the year. All major categories are recording solid value growth as a result of further price increases due to inflation. Despite a notable slowdown in the official inflation rate, there is a growing number of price-sensitive consumers in Slovenia and there has been a marked shift to private label in 2024.

Euromonitor International's Staple Foods in Slovenia report offers in-depth knowledge of the market at a national level, providing local insight and understanding unavailable elsewhere. In addition to the latest retail sales data 2019-2023, it identifies the leading companies, brands and retail outlets, and assesses the key trends and demographic shifts behind consumer demand and sales growth. How key trends such as health and wellness, sustainability and recovery from the pandemic are shaping the market in <|Year|> directly informs our forecasts to 2028, clearly indicating how the market is expected to change.

Product coverage: Baked Goods, Breakfast Cereals, Processed Fruit and Vegetables, Processed Meat, Seafood and Alternatives to Meat, Rice, Pasta and Noodles.
