Report description:

In Egypt, apparel and footwear are experiencing declining sales volumes despite increasing values, primarily driven by substantial price hikes of 30 to 40% during the first half of 2024. These increases are attributed to economic factors, most notably the devaluation of the Egyptian pound in March 2024, which caused a loss of over 60% in its value. This devaluation has significantly raised the costs of imported raw materials, such as textiles and threads, contributing to heightened inflation and...
