Report description:

Total processed and fruit and vegetables packaging volumes maintained slow, stable growth in 2023. Within frozen processed potatoes, flexible plastic was the only pack type with notable packaging volumes in South Korea in 2023, due to its versatility, durability, and cost-effectiveness. It offers excellent barrier properties, protecting frozen processed potatoes from moisture, air, and contaminants, thus preserving the quality and flavour over an extended period. In addition, flexible plastic pa...
