Report description:

Soft drinks is expected to register a healthy increase in retail value terms in 2024, driven by rising prices, with volume growth far more moderate. The Algerian economy has been impacted by surging inflation, leading to lower disposable income levels for consumers, which in turn has impacted purchasing behaviour in the year. With the economic downturn showing no signs of a quick recovery, consumers are becoming increasingly price sensitive and shifting to more affordable economy brands.

Euromonitor International's Soft Drinks in Algeria report offers a comprehensive guide to the size and shape of the market at a national level.
