Report description:

Financial cards are strengthening their position globally as the most popular way for consumers to pay. Paper payments have been consistently declining, due to changing consumer preferences and government efforts to increase the security and transparency of payments. Fintech is adding value throughout the payment process and increasing access to financial products and services. Credit cards are forecast to outpace debit products on a global level in terms of growth rate.

Euromonitor International's The World Market for Payments and Lending global briefing offers insight into the size and shape of the Payments and Lending market, highlights buzz topics, emerging geographies, categories and trends as well as pressing industry issues and white spaces. It identifies the leading companies and offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the market. Forecasts provide an invaluable perspective on market evolution and the criteria for success. The briefing leverages Euromonitor International's 360-degree coverage of the global payments' landscape including insight on consumer debt.

Product coverage: Consumer Lending, E-Commerce in Proximity Location by Industry, Financial Cards and Payments.
