Report description:

In 2024, bags and luggage in the United Arab Emirates experienced marginal growth in both retail volume and value terms, following three consecutive years of robust expansion. This category rebounded quickly post-pandemic, with value sales of high-end bags and luggage surpassing 2019 levels by early 2022. Dubai's early reopening compared to other global cities gave it an advantage, and the category benefited significantly from tourist spending, especially in the luxury segment.
