Report description:

After the pandemic, dishwashing unit prices experienced a significant increase, driven by rising costs. However, this trend came to an end in 2024, as prices fell, mainly due to the revaluation of the Costa Rican colon (CRC). Although several dishwashing products are manufactured locally, many of the raw materials used to make them are imported. As a result, the revaluation of the exchange rate led to a decrease in production costs, which manufacturers passed on to consumers.
