Report description:

Soft drinks producers face affordability pressures at the same time as new health-driven demand spaces thrive. New models of digital innovation cause category disruption with packaging safety concerns also on the horizon. Retail volume growth slows in important high-income markets, pushing brands to optimise pricing and pack sizes, while the growth of discount retailers and new channels promise to reshape long-term distribution.

Euromonitor International's Top Five Trends in Soft Drinks global briefing offers an insight into to the size and shape of the Soft Drinks market, highlights buzz topics, emerging geographies, categories and trends as well as pressing industry issues and white spaces. It identifies the leading companies and brands, offers strategic analysis of key factors influencing the market - be they new product developments, packaging innovations, economic/lifestyle influences, distribution or pricing issues. Forecasts illustrate how the market is set to change and criteria for success. The analysis can focus on value and volume for both off trade and on trade.
