Report description:

The United States cosmetic chemicals market reached around USD 5.65 Billion in 2024. The market is projected to grow at a CAGR of 5.80% during the forecast period of 2025-2034 to attain nearly USD 9.93 Billion by 2034.

United States Cosmetic Chemicals Market Outlook

The cosmetics industry in the United States is vibrant and fast-evolving. Women in the US spend over USD 10 per day on cosmetics, significantly influencing the market expansion. A key driver of this market is the growing need for personal care and grooming products. As individuals continue to incorporate more products for changing or enhancing their appearance into their lifestyles, the demand for cosmetics increases, thereby propelling the United States cosmetic chemicals market growth.

Another important market driver is the increasing awareness and knowledge about skincare ingredients. The skincare sector is the biggest consumer of cosmetic chemicals and as people learn about various ingredients and their uses such as AHAs, BHAs, retinoids, vitamins etc., a surge in the cosmetic chemicals market can be observed. This helps in positively influencing the United States cosmetic chemicals market development.

The Rising Demand for Skin Hydration Products is One of the Crucial United States Cosmetic Chemicals Market Trends

- Emollients and moisturisers are expected to experience the highest growth, with a CAGR of 6.6%. The United States cosmetic chemicals market value is increasing amid the surging consumer demand for skin hydration products and the rising trend towards natural and organic ingredients.
- Surfactants, growing at a CAGR of 6.2%, remain popular due to their essential role in cleansing and formulation stability.
- Conditioning polymers are estimated to grow at a CAGR of 6.0% during the forecast period of 2025-2034. Their rising use in hair care and skincare products to enhance texture and performance is creating lucrative United States cosmetic chemicals market
