Key Highlights

Tetra Laval International SA (TLI) is a Swiss-Swedish multinational food packaging and processing company. The company is formed in 1993. It is the world's largest food packaging company, and the second largest food processing company after Nestle. TLI develops, manufactures, and markets equipment and complete systems for animal husbandry, milk production, and food packaging. The Tetra Laval Group consists of three industry groups, Tetra Pak, Sidel and DeLaval, all focused on technologies and services for the efficient production, packaging and distribution of food. The head of each industry group has operational management responsibility for the respective industry group and reports directly to the Tetra Laval Group Board.

The Group Board is responsible for the overall strategy of the Group and for controlling and supervising all of its business operations. The Chairman ensures the implementation of the Group Board decisions and the implementation of strategy and policy for the Group. TLI's products are used by customers in over 160 countries around the world. The company's mission is to "provide innovative solutions that create value for our customers and contribute to a sustainable food supply."
