Key Highlights

Ferrovie dello Stato Italiane SpA, incorporated in 1905, is Italy's state-owned railway holding company, headquartered in Rome, Italy. It plays a central role in the country's transportation infrastructure, overseeing a wide range of rail and mobility services. Operating primarily in the transportation and infrastructure sector, the company manages passenger and freight railway services, as well as infrastructure development, engineering, and urban mobility solutions.

As a vertically integrated group, Ferrovie dello Stato Italiane controls key subsidiaries such as Trenitalia, responsible for passenger rail transport, and Rete Ferroviaria Italiana (RFI), which manages rail infrastructure. The company is also active in logistics through Mercitalia and contributes to sustainable urban mobility via Busitalia. While its core operations are based in Italy, the company has expanded its presence across Europe and internationally. It operates in countries including Germany, France, the United Kingdom, the Netherlands, and Greece, and has undertaken projects in regions such as the Balkans and the Middle East. With a strong commitment to innovation, safety, and environmental sustainability, Ferrovie dello Stato Italiane plays a vital role in shaping the future of mobility in Europe and beyond, supporting the development of integrated, efficient, and sustainable transport networks across multiple geographies.
