Ice Cream in Asia-Pacific

Summary

Ice Cream in Asia-Pacific industry profile provides top-line qualitative and quantitative summary information including: market size (value 2019-24, and forecast to 2029). The profile also contains descriptions of the leading players including key financial metrics and analysis of competitive pressures within the market.

Key Highlights

- Ice cream market includes retail sales of impulse ice cream - single serve, artisanal ice cream, and take-home and bulk ice cream. Impulse ice cream - single serve segment covers individually packaged products such as ice cream bars, cones, cups, and sticks intended for immediate consumption. Artisanal ice cream segment includes high-quality, small-batch ice cream crafted using traditional techniques, often incorporating premium or locally sourced ingredients. Take-home and bulk ice cream segment covers larger packaging formats such as tubs, pints, and multi-pack products.
- The Asia-Pacific ice cream market recorded revenues of $21,916.7 million in 2024, representing a negative compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 0.9% between 2019-24.
- Market consumption volumes declined with a negative CAGR of 0.9% between 2019-24, reaching a total of 3,505.7 million kilograms in 2024.
- The contraction of Asia-Pacific's ice cream market over the historic period can be attributed to a shift in consumer spending patterns, with rising household costs for essentials such as housing and education reducing discretionary outlays on premium indulgence products.
