Report description:

The Australia interior design market is driven by new interior design type. According to the Australian Bureau of Statistics (ABS), the value of work commenced for the private sector was around $14,677.4 million in December 2023, indicating the need for interior design for private sector homes, thus boosting the Australia interior design market.The increasing technological innovations and advancements in interior design allow time savings, provide greater precision in the project, and reduce errors during execution. Different types of technology models are used for redefining the boundaries of interior design such as computer-aided design (CAD) and 3D modelling, augmented reality (AR), and virtual reality (VR) and much more. CAD enables individuals to create detailed drawings, floor plans, and three-dimensional models. 3D modelling offers a clearer and more realistic understanding of interior design projects. AR and VR enable individuals to overlay digital elements onto the physical environment and enable them to explore spaces virtually.The integration of sustainable materials such as light-sensitive paints, and adaptable glass leads to the development of eco-friendly materials which creates more environmentally conscious and responsible areas thus driving the Australia interior design market growth forward."Australia Interior Design Market Report and Forecast 2025-2034" offers a detailed analysis of the market based on the following segments:Market Breakup by Type- Renovation- NewMarket Breakup by End Use- Residential- CommercialMarket Breakup by Region- New South Wales- Victoria- Queensland- Australian Capital Territory- Western Australia- OthersAustralia Interior Design Market ShareHomeowners increasingly seek professional design services to create personalised, aesthetically pleasing, and functional living spaces.
