Report description:

The France data center colocation market is expected to grow at a CAGR of 21.86% from 2024 to 2030.

France is one of the major colocation data center markets in the European region. The country has witnessed to increase in investment in data center. For instance, in February 2025, Equinix announced that it had launched the PA13x data center facility in Paris with an investment of around $361 million.

In France, we observe a trend in which several data center operators and new entrants are developing AI-ready data centers to accommodate the rapidly growing AI workloads of customers across different industry sectors. For instance, Bpifrance, the French national investment bank, MGX, a UAE-based investment fund, Mistral AI, a French AI firm, and NVIDIA have announced that they have signed a joint venture to establish an AI-ready data center campus in France with a planned power capacity of around 1,400 MW. Additionally, the construction is expected to begin in Q2 2026, with operations set to commence by 2028.
