Male Toiletries in the Netherlands

Summary

Male Toiletries in the Netherlands industry profile provides top-line qualitative and quantitative summary information including: market size (value and volume 2019-24, and forecast to 2029). The profile also contains descriptions of the leading players including key financial metrics and analysis of competitive pressures within the market.

Key Highlights

- Male toiletries market includes retail sales of aftershaves & colognes, men's disposable razors & blades, post-shave cosmetics - men's, and pre-shave cosmetics - men's. The aftershaves & colognes segment consists of male fragrances specifically marketed as "eau de cologne" or "aftershave" and specifically not Eau de Toilette or Eau de Parfum. Technically, these products typically contain 2-5% aromatic compounds, which is less than either Eau de Parfum or Eau de Toilette, causing the lighter scent of Eau de Colognes & Aftershaves. Whereas men's disposable razors & blades segment consists of Gillette Fusion, Wilkinson Sword Quattro, Gillette Blue Plus Twin Blade fixed head disposable razors. It includes battery-operated razors but excludes electric razors, which can be recharged via mains electricity. Pre-shave cosmetics - men's segment includes shaving gels, foams, and oils. Post-shave cosmetics - men's segment covers post-shaving balms and lotions/gels, and other cosmetics designed to smooth and cool the skin, or lessen irritation, post-shaving. Excludes traditional "aftershaves".
- The Dutch male toiletries market recorded revenues of $162.4 million in 2024, representing a compound annual growth rate (CAGR) of 2.6% between 2019 and 2024.
- Market consumption volume increased with a CAGR of 0.4% between 2019 and 2024, reaching a total of 20.2 million units in 2024.
- The growth of the Dutch male toiletries market during 2019-24 is attributed to the rise in disposable income. According to Eurostat, in 2024, the net disposable income per household in the Netherlands reached $67,402.6, up 27.4% from 2019. This rise
