Key Highlights

Vale S.A., founded in 1942 and headquartered in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, is one of the world's largest mining and metals companies. The company is a global leader in iron ore and nickel production, supplying high-quality raw materials essential for the steel, energy, automotive, and technology industries. Vale also operates in copper, manganese, coal, and fertilizers, supported by significant logistics infrastructure, including railways, ports, and shipping terminals, which enhance operational efficiency and global market reach. Vale's primary listing is on the B3 - Sao Paulo Stock Exchange under the ticker VALE3, with additional ADR trading on the NYSE. The company focuses on responsible mining, investing heavily in environmental protection, climate sustainability, tailings dam safety, and community development. Through continuous innovation, technological integration, and strong supply-chain management, Vale aims to meet growing global demand for critical minerals while reducing its carbon footprint. Today, Vale remains a key player in global mining, supporting industrial growth worldwide.
