Key Highlights

Banco BPM S.p.A. is a prominent Italian banking group, established on January 1, 2017, through the merger of two major cooperative banks, Banco Popolare and Banca Popolare di Milano. The merger created one of Italy's largest banking groups with a diversified business model, combining traditional retail and corporate banking services with growing digital and asset management operations. This strategic consolidation allowed the bank to strengthen its presence across Italy, particularly in the economically significant northern regions, including Lombardy, Veneto, and Piedmont. The bank is headquartered in Verona, Italy, with additional operations in Milan, serving a wide customer base through an extensive network of branches. Banco BPM operates across multiple banking segments, including retail banking, corporate and SME financing, wealth and asset management, and digital payments. Its retail services encompass personal loans, mortgages, and current accounts, while corporate and SME banking offers business financing, trade finance, and leasing solutions. The bank has also expanded into digital payments through the formation of Numia, one of Italy's largest e-payments businesses, reflecting its focus on innovation and modernization of financial services.
